

HON. J. PROCTOR KNOTT

Is a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of CONGRESS, subject to a Democratic Convention, should one be called.

The Democratic party has always been and will continue to be the "people's party," and just so sure as the financial problem is presented to its Convention in 1890, so sure will the "Ohio idea" be adopted. The people demand the adoption of the "greenback" policy, and not only do they demand it but they will not brook a refusal. Our being a party of and for the people, it will surely head the demand, and we may confidently look for a greenback Democratic platform for the next Presidential race. The "money power" must be met and fought and the party that does it will find ready and earnest co-operation of the people. Such a policy may drive some "gold bugs" from us, but rapidly will their places be filled with better men, politically, and still a reserve force be ready with their votes and labor to help to success the party that dares stand for the people against gold and its power.

No party can succeed or lift the place occupied by the Democratic party. It has been as if not born to die. It has survived success and defeat, has stood prosperity and adversity, and no new fangled or mushroom party can, with its puny arms, fight the battles against tyranny and oppression. It will take the sturdy, powerful blows dealt only by the brave, sinewy, practiced arm of Democracy to battle down the powerful money power and oppression—and no one can afford to hang weights on the arm that alone must depend upon for political salvation. Every Democrat who fails to cordially work and not grumble in putting stumbling blocks in the path of the grand old party in its march in behalf of the people.

Correspondents for whom we have great respect are taking us to task for publishing a Democratic paper. We expected this. Of course the man that rides the black horse don't want to see the gray horse win, and dislikes any means that are used to accomplish the result. Foes of the Democratic party don't like to see any means used that looks to the success of that party, and cry out against them.

Alpha's proposition that we are obtaining money under false pretenses is most amusing. Try your hand again at a legal proposition, Alpha, and we think you will have another never thought of before.

Hancock county has held a Congressional National Greenback party convention and appointed delegates to the District Convention, which meets at Greenville sometime in the near future. Wm. S. Roberts, Esq., was recommended as a suitable candidate for Congress. The Plaindealer says about thirty were in attendance.

Two gentlemen, in the upper part of this State, were presenting their claims to the public for representative. A negro rode up to the outer edge of the crowd, on a donkey, to see what he could hear and learn. In the heat of the discussion between the two honorables the donkey brayed, whereupon the negro wrapped him over the head with a stick, saying, "hush you mout, you fool, you don't know any no 'boot dan dey do." The crowd became so uproarious the honorables had to desert.

V. D. Marion entered a gentleman's house, in Whitley county, Ky., and found the father and husband, Mr. Cooper, sick in bed. He entertained the family and amused himself by beating and choking the wife and daughter, until they gave him up about $500. Mr. Marion, the last account of him, was in company with the sheriff, of Whitley county, and his deputy, moving back to see those people who had donated to him the funds under these peculiar circumstances.

We learn from the Pantagraph that one day last week John Wiley, who had a writ of arrest for a desperado, by the name of Kirby, placed himself in ambush on the roadside where Kirby was expected to pass. Very soon Hinton Walhall came along, going after the Dr. for his wife, and received a load of buckshot in his right shoulder and side.

J. W. Riggs and J. W. Luttrell were before a court of inquiry, in Princeton, Ky., for horse stealing. They were identified as the parties who robbed Geo. K. Hall's horse, but a few days previous. They tore away from the officers and attempted to make their escape, but were both killed by the Hall's boys before they reached the court-house door.

It would have done you good to have seen those three young gents from the country come down those steps between the printing office and Murphy's shop, secrete their selves under the wall, and take a drink. Query.—Why does a young man always get behind something when he takes a guzzle?

Cattle thieves, from Mexico, are so troublesome on the border between Mexico and Texas, that serious difficulties are expected. There is just one company of Mexicans who steal cattle enough to feed an army. War with Mexico is not improbable.

It seems from all we can gather from the Courier-Journal, that a gentleman living in Louisville visited a friend in Detroit, Mich. While there, his friends made him a present of a very fine Maltese cat, which the gentleman brought back and carried to the Louisville hotel to live. The fare at this suspicious boarding house did not suit his catship, and he left, and in a few days was found at his old home in Detroit.

VOL. III.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1878.

NO. 8.

Tobacco.

We see in the Bureau of Agriculture, published by the Kentucky Yeoman, that it places the acreage at 66 2/3 per cent. of the last year's acreage, and the yield at from 40 to 70 per cent. in this State. We have before us reports from a great many of the tobacco growing counties in the western part of the State which will reduce the above average. The article will be inferior.

Tennessee is more hopeful than Kentucky, but they do not claim anything like a full crop.

Somewhat of Missouri put their crop at one-tenth, while other parts claim a full crop.

Hamilton county, Ill., speaks despondently of her crop.

Spencer county, Ind., sets her crop down at from 30 to 50 per cent.

Several counties in Virginia claim 3/4 of an acreage and a fair outlook, while others speak very unfavorably; 1/2 of a crop is all Virginia can claim.

North Carolina speaks favorably of her crop.

Putting all of the reports together that we have from the tobacco growing States, we are of the opinion the crop will fall very far short of the last year's yield.

Darling, Listen to My Story.

Certainly she will, if it is the "Old, Old Story," and you tell it sweetly, but don't be too hasty in your wooing. Send her first a copy of Harry Percy's beautiful new song named above, and thus gracefully hint your intentions. There never was a prettier song written and singers are wild over it. Over 3,000 copies sold in one week. For Piano or Organ and easy to play and sing. Ask your nearest Music Dealer for it or enclose 40 Cents to the Publishers, LUDDEN & BATES, Savannah, Ga.

As we were sauntering along Wall street the other day, we dropped into the store and Tinware House of MESSRS. WALTER, MOORMAN & CO. We found them very busy filling orders, and their hands were more worn than they could do. Since the opening of this house there has been a life infused into the Stove trade, unprecedented in this city. The very large stock that they carry and the Low Prices at which they sell, has secured to them a very flattering trade. They informed us that their sales of stoves alone, during the past six months, has been over 100. Something unheard of in the Stove trade in Cloverport. Their stock now is large, full and complete, comprising some twenty different styles of Cooking and Heating Stoves, suitable for school and church purposes, and ranging in price from $4 to $20. They also have a large assortment of ready-made Tinware, for the wholesale and retail trade. We bespeak for them a very heavy trade this fall, which they undoubtedly merit.

It has been declared by the Clearing Houses that the "Trade Dollar," as well as the Mexican Dollar, are worth only 90 cents each. Henceforth they will not pass for more than that sum. In 1873 the Trade Dollar was demonetized, and though it contains more silver than the new standard dollar, because of its lack of legal tender qualities it will not pass for a dollar. It is worth as money fully its intrinsic value, viz: 90 cents.

They were put out among the people by the Government at the rate of one hundred cents to the dollar, but, lo! and behold, in the hands of the people it is only worth 90 cents. Somebody makes that ten cents, but as has been the rule the people lose it. Another sample of the money power legislation of our country.

Mr. John F. Keller, a Logan county merchant of undoubted veracity, is performing somnambulism in Louisville. He goes to a large hotel, takes lodging in the fourth story, and when he gets sound enough asleep to keep his head from swinging he climbs out of his window in deshabille, lets himself down to the cornice of the window below and then stands seventy-five feet from the pavement, until some one comes and wakes and relieves him from his position. The screaming of ladies has no effect on his slumbers.

The Supreme Court of the State of New York has decided that J. C. AYER & Co., of Lowell, have the sole right to use the words CUNYAN PECTORAL for a medicine, and has issued an injunction against F. V. Rushton, of New York City, for selling Rushton's Cherry Pectoral or Cherry Pectoral Lozenges, or any other use of the name to deceive the public. This decision of the high court includes all dealers who sell any similar article.—Port Jefferson (L. I.) Leader.

A young lady in Vassar College, at an evening party, found it appropos to use the expression, "Jordan is a hard road to travel," and thinking it too vulgar, substituted the following: "Perambulating progression in pedestrian excursion along the far-famed thoroughfare of fortune cast up on the banks of the sparkling river of Palestine is indeed attended with a heterogeneous conglomeration of unforeseen difficulties."

We learn from Mr. Ed Nichols, a farmer living in Hancock county, that the tobacco crop in that part of the State is very inferior, will not make more than half crop, if that. The corn crop has been seriously damaged by the drought. Mr. Nichols expects to thresh eight bushels of wheat this year against twenty last year.

Some second, one night last week, went into the bedroom of Mr. Samuel Arnold, a wealthy young farmer near London, Ohio, and put a pistol to his head and discharged it, producing instant death; the report aroused his wife who immediately hit the lamp but saw no one.

Diamond Cut Diamond.

A mid-ship man once asked a priest if he could tell him the difference between a priest and an ass? After a minute the priest gave it up. Why? said the tar, a priest wears his stripes down his back, but an ass wears his across his shoulders. Well now says the priest, can you tell me the difference between a mid-ship man and an ass? No says the sailor I cannot, what is it? I don't see any difference said the priest.

Hic, hic, good m-o-r-n-ing. Mr. Jones, you hic, don't seem to know a body this mornin'. Hic, Penn is my name. Don't I look like Tom-hic-Penn? Mr. J.—no, sir. What Penn do I-I, hic look most like? Mr. J.—hacking off. Well, sir, taking the mud and dirt into the question, I think you look more like a hog-penn than anything else.
